26 Exciting Paid Cornell Student Summer Internship Opportunities

The application deadline is April 29, 2022. Internships run approximately 8 weeks (from early June to early August), 30 to 40 hours per week, and pay $18 an hour. Please spread the word!

To accommodate travel and safety needs of interns and supervisors, the ADI Summer Internship program will offer a mix of virtual, hybrid, and in-person opportunities for Summer 2022. International students who plan to reside in the United States for the duration of the internship may apply for internship opportunities.

About the Program
The Alliance for Diversity and Inclusion (ADI) Summer Intern Program began in 2008 and forms an important role in fostering a culture of diversity and inclusion in the workplace at Cornell, both now and into the future. Internships support Ithaca campus areas including Cornell Information Technologies (CIT), Finance, Accounting, Compliance, Retail, and Facilities and Campus Services. Participating student interns are members of underrepresented groups (women, minorities, veterans, and students with disabilities).

Expectations
In addition to the hands-on work experience, during the program, interns participate in a series of events designed to help them learn how Cornell areas function and gain valuable workplace and career networking skills to take with them into their careers. Interns are expected to contribute positively to the Cornell community, conduct themselves in a professional manner, and participate fully.
