

The Students

A great stimulus to the creative work of the faculties at Cornell comes from the extraordinary diversity and intellectual vigor of the students. The number of full-time students (undergraduates and graduates) on the Ithaca campus in 2008-09 totaled over 20,273 (13,846 undergraduate, 6,427 graduate and professional). The extreme breadth and high quality of scholarly study attract students with a great variety of interests from all over the world. Admission to the colleges and schools is very selective. A comprehensive list of programs and services to support academic and non-academic activities can be found under Sections 6.0 and 7.0.