Gayogohó:nóż’ Land Acknowledgement

Cornell University is located on the traditional homelands of the Gayogohó:nóż’ (the Cayuga Nation). The Gayogohó:nóż’ are members of the Haudenosaunee Confederacy, an alliance of six sovereign Nations with a historic and contemporary presence on this land. The Confederacy precedes the establishment of Cornell University, New York state, and the United States of America. We acknowledge the painful history of Gayogohó:nóż’ dispossession and honor the ongoing connection of Gayogohó:nóż’ people, past and present, to these lands and waters.

This land acknowledgment has been reviewed and approved by the traditional Gayogohó:nóż’ leadership.

Proposals for Faculty Input
Part-Time Bachelor’s Degree for Non-traditional Students

Avery August, Vice Provost for Academic Affairs
Lisa Nishii, Vice Provost for Undergraduate Education
External Education and Bachelor Degree for Non-Traditional Students

Lisa Nishii, VPUE (Committee Co-Chair)
Avery August, VPAA (Committee Co-Chair)
Committee Charge

This committee was charged with exploring the possibility of offering a part-time (PT) bachelor’s degree to a population that would not otherwise look to Cornell for a traditional residential undergraduate education. Admission to the bachelor’s degree program would be competitive, and the degree would not overlap with the population that traditionally seeks out Cornell for a post-secondary degree.

The overarching questions for the committee were:
What are the reasons for and against offering this pathway to a bachelor’s, how does it relate to our mission, who would we serve, and what would it entail?

Committee Membership

Committee Co-chairs:
Avery August, VPAA
Lisa Nishii, VPUE

Committee Members:
David Bindel, Associate Professor, CS
Jonathan Burdick, VPE
Kevin Hallock, Professor, SC JCOB
David Lee, Professor, Dyson School
Katherine McComas, VPELGA
Jamila Michener, Associate Professor, Government
Linda Nozick, Professor, CEE

Committee support:
Bonnie Comella & Amy Godert, OVPUE
Who are Non-Traditional Students?

• Working professionals (including international); minimum 4+ years since completing secondary education

• Specific populations of interest (where Cornell has prior experience\(^1\), and/or to whom Cornell has a distinctive commitment\(^2\)):

  – Incarcerated individuals\(^1\) - CPEP
  – Farmworkers (especially NYS) \(^1\) – Cornell Farmworker Program
  – Enlisted military and veterans\(^2\)
  – Native American/Indigenous communities\(^2\)
Key Recommendations

• Compelling and timely way for Cornell to build on its historical founding and aspirational ethos of educating “any person…. in any study” and strengthening our brand as the egalitarian Ivy

  • Provide non-traditional students with access to Cornell Offer financial aid to enhance access even more

• Confer degree through School of Continuing Education to optimally leverage strengths across Cornell’s colleges/schools

  • All colleges and department that contribute to the PT program would benefit financially

• Asynchronous online instruction would be default, augmented by meaningful synchronous interactions and instructional activities

  • 7-week courses preferred to 15-week courses
Key Recommendations - Curriculum

1) Majors: Small set with general education requirements
   - ~1/3 distribution requirements, 1/3 major courses, 1/3 free electives
   - Humanities, Social Sciences, STEM (include business as a major?)

2) Minors/Concentrations
   - Take advantage of our institutional strengths
   - Leverage existing eCornell course assets
   - Align with areas where there is significant (and growing) market demand:

   Data Analytics
   Business, organizational leadership, human resource management
   Global development, international studies
   Social justice and inequality
   Environmental and sustainability studies
   Public policy, government, (pre-) law
   Health-related fields: public health, health policy, nutrition
Next Steps

- Collect input from Faculty
- Start search for new Dean of School of Continuing Ed
- Implementation Committee
  - Curriculum Development
  - Instructional strategy (course development, support, instructors)
  - Student services structure
  - Tuition model
  - Development of enrollment functions (financial aid, registrar, admissions)
- Submit Proposal for new degree to New York State
- Develop courses

Award of Honors and Distinctions to Cornell’s Undergraduate Students

Lisa Nishii, Vice Provost for Undergraduate Education
Carol Grumbach, Associate Vice Provost for Undergraduate Education
Chair, Education Policy Committee; Senator David Delchamps, Electrical and Computer Engineering
Background

Sponsors:
• College and school deans
• Associate Deans Council
• Vice Provost for Undergraduate Education, Lisa Nishii
• Provost, Michael Kotlikoff and the Provost Council

Addressing:
• UG concerns about inconsistencies across the undergraduate colleges and schools in the award of academic honors and distinctions
• Ameliorate the unhealthy culture of competition at Cornell fostered by awards based solely on grades
Background

Current Latin Honors Policies (Data = Spring 2017 through Fall 2019):

• The College of Architecture, Art, and Planning (0% LH); the College of Human Ecology (0% LH); and the School of Industrial and Labor Relations (0% LH) do not confer Latin honors.

• The College of Agriculture and Life Sciences (44.3% LH), the College of Engineering (48.5% LH), the Dyson School of Applied Economics and Management (74.1% LH), and the School of Hotel Administration (21.5% LH) award three levels of Latin honors conferred at the degree level and on the basis of GPA.

• The College of Arts and Sciences (20.9% LH) awards three levels of Latin honors conferred at the level of the major and set by the department for each major.

• Variability in College requirement for Dean’s List: 3.3 to 3.8 GPA range
Three Recommendations

• Replace the diverse approaches to the award of Latin honors with a single approach so that all colleges and schools would confer Latin honors on the bases of percentiles in the colleges and schools (using 2017-2019 data): Summa cum laude – top 5% (3.92 – 4.09), Magna cum laude – next 10% (3.82 – 3.99), and Cum laude – next 15% (3.67-3.88);

• Eliminate dean’s list; and

• Eliminate non-Latin academic honors and distinctions that are determined solely based upon grade point average (GPA) and align the nomenclature used across colleges and schools and adopt a single naming convention for distinctions, “distinction in x,” as determined by each college, school, or major.
