2019 Cornell Survey of Sexual Assault and Related Misconduct: Tables of Survey Results

In spring 2019, Cornell conducted the Survey of Sexual Assault and Related Misconduct. This survey asked about students' experiences with inappropriate sexual behavior while attending Cornell, including: nonconsensual sexual contact, sexual and gender-based harassment, stalking, and domestic and dating violence. The survey also asked about students' knowledge of Cornell resources and policies concerning sexual assault and related misconduct, and their beliefs about their own or other students' decisions to intervene or not as bystanders to scenarios of sexual assault or misconduct.

A stratified, random sample of 6,000 students enrolled at our Ithaca, Weill Cornell, and Cornell Tech campuses was invited to participate in this web-based survey. A total of 2,247 students completed the survey, yielding a 37% response rate.

The results of the 2019 Survey of Sexual Assault and Related Misconduct are displayed in the tables that follow. The percentages shown in the tables are weighted estimates of the Cornell student population.

Survey responses are broken out for all students; for women and men, by enrollment status (undergraduate or graduate/professional); and for students who reported a non-binary gender identity [identified in the tables as TGQN]. The letter "s" indicates a result has been suppressed due to an unweighted cell count of less than 5.

^aThe survey population included all students who were enrolled in both the Fall 2018 and Spring 2019 semesters and were 18 years of age or older when the survey launched. Non-degree seeking and Employee Degree students were excluded, as were students who were in absentia, or studying off-campus beyond New York City.

^bFrom this population, a random sample of 6,000 Cornell students, stratified by campus, was invited to participate in the survey.

^cA survey was counted as "completed" if a respondent answered at least one question in each of the sections concerning sexual harassment, stalking, and nonconsensual sexual contact.

^dSurvey response rates are calculated by dividing the number of respondents by the number of students in the survey sample.

^eTGQN includes the following gender identities: transgender woman, transgender man, gender non-conforming or non-binary, and questioning.

^bThe survey data file was weighted to adjust for survey non-response patterns and more accurately reflect the characteristics of the student population of Cornell.

^cTGQN includes the following gender identities: transgender woman, transgender man, gender non-conforming or non-binary, and questioning.

^dLGBAQ includes the following sexual orientations: asexual, bisexual, gay, lesbian, pansexual, queer or questioning.
