Join us at Lewin Farms on August 31st, 2022, from 3:30 – 6:30pm as we discuss cover crops and soil management for more climate resilient Long Island farms! We will be sharing a new Long Island Soil Health Characterization Report, discussing cover crop impacts and options for farmers, leading a summer cover crop root and field demonstration, and hosting a farmer panel.

$10 registration fee (includes copy of building soils for better crops book, Midwest cover crop field guide, cover crop poster, and Long Island soil health characterization report).
