In this guide does not imply a recommendation or a guarantee. Omissions are not intended. All meat products listed in this map have been USDA inspected.

Certified Organic farms and certified organic foods are prepared, processed, and handled according to federal regulations, and are marketed as organic. Consumers can identify organic foods by the use of the USDA Organic logo or other appropriate claims.

We encourage you to visit the farms and farmers’ markets on this map to learn more about their products and to support local agriculture. The success of local agriculture depends on the support of local consumers, who help to preserve farming as a livelihood and rural strength.

The local foods map is a tool that helps to identify the locations of local farms and farmers’ markets in Herkimer County. The map is intended to provide a reference for consumers who are interested in purchasing locally grown and processed foods.
