Join us as a Transforming Food Systems Fellow!

Apply For Our New Fellowship Now!

Cornell Transforming Food Systems Fellows will work to create food systems that are sustainable, equitable, and health-promoting for people, animals, and the planet. They will learn from interdisciplinary faculty, engage in real-world learning opportunities, and receive specialized mentorship.

Three fellows will receive tuition and stipend support toward a two-year Master of Public Health degree. Over a two-year period, Fellows will receive $44,000 in tuition scholarships and a $37,000 stipend (each year receiving $22,000 in tuition scholarships and an $18,500 stipend).

Financial support for this program is provided by the USDA National Institute of Food and Agriculture’s National Needs Fellowship Program and the Cornell University Master of Public Health (MPH) Program.

publichealth.cornell.edu/TFSfellowship
Transforming Food Systems Fellowship applicants must:

- Apply and be accepted to the Cornell MPH Program with a concentration in Food Systems & Health (only incoming students applying for the standard 2-year program are eligible)
- Be a U.S. citizen, U.S. national, or legal permanent resident of the U.S.
- Qualify for one or more of the following categories:
  - First-generation in your family to earn a four-year college degree
  - Low-income or experiencing/experienced financial hardship (e.g., Federal Pell grant eligible, SNAP or WIC eligible, housing insecure)
  - Underrepresented/underserved cultural, racial, ethnic, geographic (e.g., rural), or other identity group background.
  - Underrepresented/underserved life experience (e.g., formerly incarcerated, single parent, military veteran, etc.)

To be considered for a Transforming Food Systems Fellowship:

- Apply to Cornell’s MPH Program via SOPHAS by February 1st for priority consideration
- Complete the supplementary Transforming Food Systems Fellowship Application by February 15th
- Applicants will be notified of acceptance into the MPH Program and Transforming Food Systems Fellowship by April 1st
- Accept MPH admission and Transforming Food Systems Fellowship offers by April 15th

Questions? Please contact Ben Parker for any questions about the Transforming Food Systems Fellowship or the Cornell MPH Program.