This email was sent to Elliott School of International Affairs, 1957 E Street NW Suite 501

Got this as a forward?

Be sure to check out this section and the in are often left behind in foreign policy development and discourse,” the priorities of bodily autonomy, peace, environmental integrity and justice, which inequalities…[and]… feminist foreign policy includes a focus on key thematic stakeholders, and should take an intersectional approach, utilizing a power-should be representative, inclusive, responsive, and accountable to “…(W)omen’s rights are human rights and foreign policy in the United States response, trade, diplomacy, defense, immigration, funding, and oversight areas of foreign policymaking, including foreign assistance and humanitarian spoke up about the toxic climate they have endured while making significant accountability at the State Department on behalf of the brave employees who introduced the House Foreign Affairs Subcommittee on Oversight and Investigations;

Caucus

In February 2020, Women In International Security (WIIS) and the Heinrich-

Peacemaking

development, and experiences in advocacy and Track One mediation

Drawing on two decades of desk and primary research and interviews, policy included Corey Levine, Anne Marie Goetz, and Ellen Haring, as well as edited by new book,

view the winning essays released this Fact Sheet on the Rights of Women — to mark the 20th anniversary of the United Nations Security Recalling UNSCR 1325 and the WPS agenda in the 2020s.”

honorable mentions.” She noted that “the essays highlight innovative and competitive.” “It led us to award two second prizes; two third prizes and six around the world, and stated that “this made the selection process extremely important perspective they can bring to addressing these challenges—women

Despite the distinct challenges facing women with disabilities—and thus the by conflict and humanitarian emergencies due to multiple and intersecting

On October 29, 2020, Refugees International” geography, they willingly and strategically harness, reframe, and deploy

peacemaking

developed the Women, Peace, and Security (WPS) agenda under UN Security

2015, the UN established this agenda in line with the current understanding of the interrelated threats posed by war and conflict. The idea that women are not just victims of war but can also be a solution to ending violence

2015-2025

Peace

Peacebuilders:

Recognizing Women Peacebuilders: Critical Actors in Effective

Recognizing Women Peacebuilders

We are pleased to announce the winners of the 2020 Women, Peace, and Security Essay Competition. The Competition, Spring 2020

Women, Peace, and Security Essay Competition: Call for submissions

owed to your understanding of women and peace.

Most of the winners were female, which is not a surprise.

Of course, a prize is a pleasant recognition and encouragement for Nothing is done...