VISITING SCHOLAR EXPECTATIONS

Visiting Scholars at the GW Institute for Korean Studies (GWIKS) are expected to play an active role in the intellectual life of GWIKS and the Elliott School of International Affairs. As such, Visiting Scholars at GWIKS should anticipate participating in activities such as - but not limited to - attending GWIKS events and providing guest lectures in GW courses related to their research topic. Visiting Scholars must also present their research in an oral presentation by the end of their term.

Additionally, due to the high volume of Visiting Scholar applications and limited office space available, accepted Scholars may have to share desk space during their research term. This will also be communicated and confirmed between the Visiting Scholar and GWIKS staff as needed.

By signing below, you acknowledge and accept the above expectations.
