WELCOME TO THE I3P MONTHLY
The Institute for Information Infrastructure Protection (I3P) is a consortium of 26 leading universities, national laboratories, and nonprofit institutions dedicated to strengthening the cyber infrastructure of the United States.

The I3P Monthly highlights the impact of I3P experts on research, policy, and practice. For more information on the I3P, see our website - thei3p.org.

CONSORTIUM NEWS

The I3P @ GW – One Year Anniversary with events October 13-14!

The I3P hosted a VIP dinner for consortium members and special guests at The George Washington University, City View Room. During the evening we highlighted 2016 accomplishments, strategic priorities for the year ahead, and new initiatives including CyberBlue! Contact us to learn more!

I3P Breakfast Forum: Cybersecurity Priorities for the Next Administration
October 14th, SRI International, Arlington, VA

The breakfast forum featured I3P affiliated experts discussing cybersecurity priorities for the next administration in the context of the Cybersecurity National Action Plan (CNAP). Featured speakers included: Mark Maybury, MITRE Corporation; Tomas Vagoun, NITRD/CSIA; Sujeet Shenoi, University of Tulsa; and Richard Robinson, Telos Corporation. The discussion was moderated by David Balenson, SRI International.
IFIP WG 11.10 2017 - Call for Papers (due January 10, 2017):
Eleventh Annual IFIP WG 11.10 International Conference on Critical Infrastructure Protection (March 13-15, 2017). CFP is available here. For more information contact Dr. Sujeet Shenoi (sujeet@utulsa.edu)

I3P Webinar: Security in E-Voting

As An Example ... presented by Matt Bishop (University of California at Davis) provided insight on electronic voting systems. The talk examined voting over the internet and a brief discussion of election forensics. LISTEN HERE and register (below) for the next I3P webinar on The Role of Behavioral Theory in Cybersecurity.

I3P MEMBER HIGHLIGHTS

Diana Burley (Executive Director/George Washington University) has been selected as the Executive Women's Forum (EWF) 2016 Women of Influence for Public Sector/Academia! Co-presented by Alta Associates and CSO, the Annual Women of Influence Awards honor four women for their accomplishments and leadership roles in the fields of Information Security, Risk Management and Privacy. Diana is listed in the EWF Women of Influence Hall of Fame - Here!

Sean Peisert (Lawrence Berkeley National Laboratory) was featured in IEEE Cybersecurity Journal. Read the article: "Sean Peisert on the Value of Failed Experiments in Cybersecurity."

Diana Burley (Executive Director/George Washington University) along with Michael Greenberger (University of Maryland Center for Health and Homeland Security) was featured in the Knowledge@Wharton podcast, "Will the Dyn DDoS Attack Lead to Better Internet Security?" Listen to the Podcast as Diana and Michael speak about the cyberattacks that took place on October 21 that denied web users access to popular websites such as Twitter, PayPal, Netflix and others.

Michael Mylrea (Pacific Northwest National Laboratory and The George Washington University's Executive Cyber Corps Doctoral Student) spoke on Cyber and Energy wars at the Ralph J. Bunche Library Speaker Series hosted by the Department of State.

![Image of Michael Mylrea's talk poster]

Tiina Rodrigue (CipherCloud and The George Washington University's Executive Cyber Corps Doctoral Student) presented "Cyber Crime Risk Management (RM)" at the FDIC, FFIEC Financial Crimes Seminar in Arlington, VA.

![Image of Tiina Rodrigue's seminar poster]

UPCOMING EVENTS

The I3P Webinar Series -- "The Role of Behavioral Theory in Cybersecurity"
Friday, November 18, 2016 12PM ET | On Line (Register Today!)

David Balenson (SRI International) is presenting "The Role of Behavioral Theory in Cybersecurity" Mr. Balenson is a Senior Computer Scientist in the Computer Science Laboratory at SRI International.

These complimentary 30 minute webinars, held at noon ET on the 3rd Friday of each month, allow our colleagues a relaxed forum through which to share insight into their work and expertise.

Upcoming speaker:

- December 16: Tiina Rodrigue (George Washington University)
More information on the I3P is available here. Contact us at thei3p@gwu.edu to discuss opportunities to engage with I3P subject matter experts.