Week 1 Roundup

Facilitators

- Brent Hirata
- Rachael Inake
- Greg Walker

Start with the fundamentals.
Objective
Decide how you will apply the “fundamentals of online teaching” in your own teaching.

Topics

- Evidence of why online teaching is important.
- Substantive Interaction.
- Where Do You Begin? The Nine steps to quality online learning.
- Good Practice in Online Teaching.
Objective
Decide how you will apply the “fundamentals of online teaching” in your own teaching.

Evidence of why online teaching is important.

- Using technology to give “students control of their interactions” has a positive effect on student learning.
- Learner activity or learner reflection and self-monitoring of understanding are effective in online learning.
- The use of video or online quizzes does not appear to enhance learning.
Objective
Decide how you will apply the “fundamentals of online teaching” in your own teaching.

Substantive Interaction.

- Distance education supports regular and substantive interaction between the students and the instructor, either synchronously or asynchronously.
- If a course is defined as correspondence, your school will lose financial aid for that course.
Objective

Decide how you will apply the “fundamentals of online teaching” in your own teaching.

Where Do You Begin? The Nine steps to quality online learning.

1. Decide how you want to teach online.
2. Decide what kind of online course you and your students need.
3. Work in a team.
4. Build on existing resources.
5. Master the technology.
6. Set appropriate learning goals for online learning.
7. Design course structure and learning activities
8. Communicate, communicate, communicate
9. Evaluate and innovate
Objective
Decide how you will apply the “fundamentals of online teaching” in your own teaching.

Topics

Chickering and Gamson's 7 Principles of Good Practice

Good Practice in Online Teaching.

1. Encourage contact between students and faculty.
2. Develop reciprocity and cooperation among students.
3. Encourage active learning
4. Give prompt feedback.
5. Emphasize time on task.
6. Communicate high expectations.
7. Respect diverse talents and ways of learning.
Week 1 Roundup

Facilitators

- Brent Hirata
- Rachael Inake
- Greg Walker

Artifact Examples?