

Internship title: Media Graphic Internship

About the company

Illinois at Singapore Pte. Ltd./ Advanced Digital Sciences Center (ADSC) is a university-related organization affiliated with the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign (UIUC) established 2009 for the conduct of research in Singapore with founding funding from Singapore's Agency for Science, Technology and Research (A*STAR). ADSC operates in Singapore under the Singapore-chartered Illinois at Singapore Pte. Ltd. in partnership with A*STAR and interfaces with UIUC in the USA for many of its support functions. ADSC is home to approximately 100 researchers and students focusing on breakthrough innovations in information technologies supporting interactive cyber infrastructures that are expected to have a major impact in transforming humans' use of information in data-intensive, technologically developed societies. ADSC's research mission is carried out through projects that facilitate interactions among UIUC researchers, local researchers and their industry partners. Through this, ADSC aims to enhance Singapore's position as a hub for leading edge research.
