To whom it may concern:

AMLI recognizes the presence that Rice University has in the Houston community and the impact you make with the economic structure here. We are here to recognize that impact by offering exclusive benefits to your members through our Preferred Employer Program. The best part is that this is at no cost to you!

AMLI has several luxury apartment communities in the greater Houston area with over 2,100 apartment homes. We have selected your association as one of our Preferred Employer Associations. What this means to you:

AMLI PREFERRED EMPLOYER PROGRAM

AMLI Preferred Employer Program allows for special privileges for employees at selected companies only. The discounts are offered as "quantity discounts" for these companies and will be offered to every employee at that business.

It is our hope that your employees will look towards AMLI for their choice in apartment home living and at a discount for them.

Preferred Employer Discount Program

The Preferred Employer Discount allows your employees to receive $150 off of his or her first month's rent. In addition to this offer, Rice University employees are eligible for any current specials that are currently being offered.

On behalf of myself and AMLI Residential, thank you for the opportunity to work closely with your company so that we may offer discounts in apartment home living for your employees.

Sincerely,

Sarah Nicely
