SUST 390 Writing Urban Nature is a one-week-intensive environmental literature and writing special topics course distinguished by in-the-field explorations of various natural and urban environments. The class provides a unique immersive experience in “nature close at hand” at sites of ecological and cultural significance in the Chicago region. Strong emphasis on closely observing place and people; walking and exploring landscapes and neighborhoods; and reflecting on / discussing compelling ideas, stories, and images of urban nature, broadly defined.

Class meets from May 22-26 from 9:30am to 5pm. Required pre-session on May 10 from 4-6pm. Contact Prof. Mike Bryson, mbryson@roosevelt.edu, for more information.
