Mandy Gettler

Surviving and Thriving During Leadership Transitions

Mandy Gettler currently serves as the associate director for the Center for Applied Second Language Studies (CASLS), the largest grant-funded humanities center at the University of Oregon. In her role as associate director, she manages the center’s business development, strategic communications, and dissemination and outreach. Ms. Gettler managed the center during its transition from a founding director to an incoming director in 2013. This experience will serve as the basis for the proposed presentation.

She has worked at the UO, in positions with increasing leadership capacity, for fifteen years. She also served as editor, and later as publication director, for the Pacific Northwest Council for Languages from 2003-2013.