

Position: Pro Tem Research Assistant, Associate or Postdoctoral Research Associate

The Department of Psychology at the University of Oregon is updating its pool of applicants for potential Research Assistant (Bachelor's degree required), Research Associates (PhD required), and Postdoctoral Research Associate (PhD required). Positions are temporary, intermittent, or of limited durations; not to exceed one-year. In limited circumstances, there is the possibility of renewal beyond three years depending on programmatic need, funding, and performance.

Successful candidates will share the Department of Psychology's commitment to an inclusive environment and to work effectively with students, faculty, and staff from diverse backgrounds. Underrepresented groups, women, and persons of color are strongly encouraged to apply.

Research assistants will conduct research under supervision. Research associates will work independently as part of a research team. Postdoctoral research associates will train and study under the sponsorship of a faculty member. Areas of research may include affective neuroscience, clinical, cognitive or cognitive neuroscience, development, fMRI, information technology, social personality, or temperament.

Applications will be accepted on a continuous basis. Screening of applications will take place as positions become available and will continue until positions are filled. The pool is active through 06-30-2016.

For application, provide a cover letter, current vita, and contact information for three professional or academic references to <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/7706>

If applying for a position specific to a lab or faculty member, please indicate such in the cover letter.

The University of Oregon is an equal opportunity, affirmative action institution committed to cultural diversity and compliance with the ADA. The University encourages all qualified individuals to apply, and does not discriminate on the basis of any protected status, including veteran and disability status.