We are all given the creative challenge to tell theatrical stories online, but how? This workshop is for directors, actors, stage managers, and leaders of the community that want to learn some practical tools for communicating online. Participants are welcome to sign up for only Part 1 or both. Registration for only Part 2 is at the instructor's discretion.

Part 1: Learning the tools, practices, and vocab of online platforms.
Part 2: Applying the tools in a constructive environment. Lots of feedback and space for “daring to suck.”
