

ADMISSION TO THE MAJOR

Students should apply for admission in the term prior to achieving junior class standing (90-105 credits). Strong applicants will be considered before this level on a case-by-case basis. Students must apply to the major before earning 30 credits in PPPM major courses. The school strongly encourages applications from individuals regardless of race, age, gender identity, sexual orientation, religion, or ability. We recognize that affirmative action and equal opportunity begin with the development of professionals who represent a diversity of ideas and cultures. The school encourages applicants who have demonstrated scholarly ability and who have some experience, either paid or volunteer, in public service. Preference is given to applicants who have completed a majority of the university's general-education group requirements and have an overall grade point average of 3.00 or higher.

Attached is an application for admission to the PPPM major. Please read this document and the undergraduate program handbook, "Baccalaureate Studies in PPPM" carefully before preparing your application. Additional information about the school is available online at <http://pppm.uoregon.edu>. For questions, please contact the PPPM Undergraduate Advisor: pppmadv@uoregon.edu, 541.346.3649, office 119B Hendricks Hall.

APPLICATION PROCEDURES

Submit the following materials:

1. The application form, typed, completed and signed.
2. Transcripts from all colleges and universities (unofficial transcripts are acceptable).
3. Brief resume of your educational, employment, and volunteer history.
4. Personal statement describing your career goals and how the major in planning, public policy and management will help achieve those goals. Limit your statement to two typed, double-spaced pages.

Additional guidelines regarding the personal statement:

- Career Objectives: A statement regarding your career objectives is required within the personal statement. For example, explain the areas of public service where you might see yourself working. Your statement will be evaluated in terms of how well these objectives are presented and whether or not they are appropriate to the PPPM program.
- Communication Skills: Because communication skills are critical to a professional in public service, preference is given to applicants who can demonstrate these skills. For example, the career objectives statement is used to evaluate an applicant's writing ability and how effectively the applicant can communicate.

Applications are accepted fall, winter, and spring terms. Admission to the major is effective the following term.

Deadline to apply: Monday of Week 4.

Deliver application materials to the School of PPPM office (119B Hendricks) or mail to:
