

TAEC Resources and Referrals

Resource	Description	Who to Refer	When to Access	What	How
Learning Specialist (1-on-1)	Help students learn strategies, clarify goals, and connect to resources to help improve their academic success	Students seeking guidance to improve their learning with long-term skills and strategies	Earlier in term, the better; students can access at any point throughout the term	Appointments are individualized, so discussions focus on unique experiences, strengths, challenges, and goals.	Schedule appointments in Navigate: uo.campus.eab.com Monday-Friday
Class Encore (CE)	Small, structured study groups for challenging classes. Subjects include entry-level accounting, biology, chemistry, computer science, and math courses.	Undergrads enrolled in classes with CE	Earlier in term, the better; when needed during the term (including before/after exams).	Sessions are led by peer leaders and meet once a week, for 1-hour, outside of class to practice course concepts and strategies. Students commit to working in peer study groups, exploring concepts and study strategies.	Registration starts Week 1 of each term. Registration, session schedules, and current course partnerships: engage.uoregon.edu/class-encore Sessions occur Weeks 2-10 of the term.
Tutoring	In-person and remote tutoring for Math, Writing, language, and science courses	Students seeking guidance on assignments or course concepts; students seeking regular support	As needed, regularly and earlier in the term the better	Students can ask questions about specific work, clarify concepts, and learn new approaches to material. Individual: 30-min peer tutor appointments Small group: Meet twice per week through term	Individual appointments via Navigate: uo.campus.eab.com Small group tutoring: engage.uoregon.edu/tutoring Appointments are available M-F, Su Support is limited for Summer term
Online Writing Lab (OWL)	Submit work online, a tutor will send holistic feedback via email within 48 hours	Students who prefer text-based feedback or who struggle to access live writing support	Well in advance of due date (at least 48 hours before)	Projects at any stage in the writing process – papers, application essays, cover letters Focus on developing writing skills (not a proofreading service) See OWL guidelines for page limits	Submit work at owl.uoregon.edu Tutor will offer feedback within 48 hours OWL is open Monday-Friday
Classes	Credit-bearing courses designed to help students improve their learning and academic success	Undergraduates seeking a more structured learning experience who may also want or need to earn additional credits	Classes offered Fall, Winter and Spring terms. Sign up during regular registration periods.	- The Tackling Series (UGST 199): These 1-credit, 3-week-long courses focus on Texts, Time, and Tests; students may take all three sequentially or just one or two. - Visit website for all classes, including University 101, Major Decisions, Studying Science.	Visit engage.uoregon.edu/courses to see current and past course offerings. All TAEC courses are listed under the “UGST” subject code. Check classes.uoregon.edu for more course details.
Learning Resources	Free study skills resources – handouts, online modules and workshops	Independent, self-directed students interested in boosting learning strategies	Materials available during academic year. Most effective when coupled with resources during term.	Self-directed resources to boost learning and skill development: - Workshops on specific study strategies - Success in Online Learning modules - Handouts and worksheets	View current slate of workshops: engage.uoregon.edu/workshops Success in Online Learning modules and handouts: engage.uoregon.edu/learning-resources
Test Prep (GRE, MCAT)	Comprehensive GRE and MCAT graduate school exam workshops taught by UO instructors	Students planning to apply to graduate school	Most effective when coupled with personal study plans ahead of GRE/MCAT	Intensive content review, test-taking and study strategies, practice exams and ongoing instructional support	Register at: engage.uoregon.edu/test-prep - GRE offered every term - MCAT offered annually in Winter term