

Labor Research Colloquium

A Lecture Series Sponsored by the UO Labor Education & Research Center

“Don't be a Jerk: Countering Racism and Promoting Tolerance in Post-WWII Unions”

May 16th, 2018 • 4 – 5 pm

Bob Bussel

Professor of History and Director of LERC

This work-in-progress presentation will review the anti-racist educational efforts of post-World War II labor activists who sought to create working-class solidarity and promote democratic values -- focusing on the political strategy behind these efforts, the ways in which working-class audiences responded to these messages, and the lessons we can learn from these campaigns.

All lectures in the series will be held at the ERB Memorial Union, Miller Room on the University of Oregon campus.

The University of Oregon is an equal-opportunity, affirmative-action institution committed to cultural diversity and compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act. This publication will be made available in accessible formats upon request.
