I. INTRODUCTION

The Fall Picnic was held Saturday October 13th from 3:30-8:30 at the Wilkins Shelter at Hendricks Park. This date was picked for a variety of reasons. First, I, as committee chair, wanted to increase faculty attendance. Saturday was picked to attempt to lure faculty to attend. The idea was that having the picnic while it was light outside might encourage faculty to come and play in the park. There’s a few faculty (and some grad students) with younger children and I had hoped they would bring their children to play in the park. This is why a Saturday was chosen.

This Saturday was chosen because it was the only one available. In mid-August, the park department was contact about the last Friday and Saturday in September and the first few Saturdays and Fridays in October. All were available. However, on September 7th, when physically renting the Park, the only Saturday available of these 3 was the 13th. So, we took it. It had the added benefit of there NOT being an Oregon Duck football game that day. However, this Saturday was marred by overcast skies, low 60s temperatures, and threats of light rain. Grad students were out in pretty standard numbers, but faculty attendance was very low. I counted 3 faculty. So much for the date change. Although, I could think about placing the blame on the weather and not the idea fundamentally of having the picnic on a Saturday.

Renting the park itself is an easy process. You can download forms from Eugene’s website to reserve the park, and just drop off completed forms at the parks department a month or so before the event. The forms were dropped off on September 7th. A first letter (it declined the reservation) was mailed to me on September 12th, and a second (acceptance!) on the 19th. So leave at least about 2 weeks before the event. You'll also note the reservation problem above. Try to reserve the park about 6 weeks ahead to get the date you want for sure (probably). The first letter rejected our reservation only because the alcohol insurance paperwork hadn’t gone through yet. Once that paperwork went through, we got a 2nd letter accepting our reservation. When I dropped off the paperwork at the parks department, I was told explicitly that this would happen and I should not worry about it.

II. ENTERTAINMENT

A. Self Portraits

The committee asked students, faculty and staff to draw self portraits to display at the picnic. The portraits were numbered and a game was held for people to guess whose portrait was whose. 21 students participated (20 graduate plus 1 undergrad), and a maximum of 17 portraits were identified successfully. Verbal feedback about the self portraits was positive from a handful of graduate students. Observing people’s faces during the reveal of whose portrait was whose also suggested people enjoyed the activity.

Prizes: Three prizes were awarded at the picnic for the self portrait guessing game. First, a prize for the person who guessed the most portraits correctly. Second, a prize for Tristan’s favorite portrait. Third, a prize for most obvious self-portrait. All prizes were toys/games from Goodwill.

Previous Activities: Secret Fact guessing, name anagrams, bingo

B. Hendricks Park Activities

There is a lot of do in Hendricks Park, but most of it wasn’t done. There’s two gardens (mostly dead during the fall), lots of hiking trails, some open space, lots of letterboxes and geocaches. There is also a fireplace at the shelter, but you need to pick up the key from the parks department sometime prior to the event. There is a small deposit for a key, which you can get back (I think). In the appendices is a 2-page document describing the letter boxing sites and some geocache coordinates.

C. Music

Wes Miller brought his laptop, stereo, and 2 speakers. These were sufficient to supply music for the picnic.

There was also serious discussion about hiring a small 2-person jazz band to perform for a few hours at the picnic. They were around $75 per person for 2 hours. The band is led by a neighbor of Wes. To cover the costs, we discussed having home-brewed beer offered in stead of one of the kegs. We also talked about finding other funding sources through the department to cover the band’s cost. The department (head) did not seem opposed fundamentally to the idea, we just didn’t allow time to coordinate this happening. There are still lingering questions as to if the department is allowed to hire the band, where funding for the band would come from and how the department would pay a third party for services such as this. All these questions have answers, we just didn’t have time to answer all of them. We tabled this idea until next year, but it should definitely be revisited and debated.

III. FOOD

As usual, the picnic is fundamentally a potluck. People were encouraged to bring appetizers, entrees, side dishes and deserts. We had a pretty good mix of each of these. They were all delicious. Prizes were awarded for best entree, desert, ”cooked” side/appetizer and ”raw” side/appetizer. The last two groups were to encourage simple dishes, like really good guacamole or pasta salad, to win an award and not be out by something fancier. Awards were bottles of wine purchased from Costco. However, cheaper, drinkable wine can be found at Safeway and should be investigated before purchasing at Costco again.

The committee also bought burgers and hotdogs to cook and eat at the picnic. A full description of purchased food by the committee can be found below. Most of it was purchased at Costco, but some had to come from Safeway. Costco doesn’t carry charcoal and condiments were hard to find during the off-picnic season. Additionally, Costco doesn’t carry any 2-liters of soda. So these other items were bought at Safeway. The burgers were made from 11lbs of raw ground beef, seasoned and formed into burgers the afternoon before the picnic by Chris Newby. Grilling, while typically done by committee volunteers, was done by Tyler Yan, as he seemed motivated to do it. The grill and all grilling supplies, other than charcoal, were borrowed from various members of the committee.

Quite a bit of food was left over. We had 24 hotdogs (2 full packages of a dozen) left over after the picnic. Very little of the vegan/vegetarian stuff was eaten. Probably at least 1/4 of the burgers hadn’t even been cooked before most people had eaten. There are also all of the buns associated with these burgers.

IV. ALCOHOL

Getting alcohol for the picnic is slightly complicated. First, we are "limited" to $150. That isn’t a problem, except prices keep increasing. We easily fit all the beer under $150, but with wine we went over budget. We ordered two 1/6th barrels from Oakshire (an Amber and their Winter ale). One cost XXX and the other YYY. We had 2 large bottles of wine from Costco, one red (Twister) and one white (Yellow Tail). We aren’t supposed to have glass in the park, but we ignore that rule for wine, I guess.

Getting the alcohol was pretty straightforward. Someone picked up the kegs from Oakshire the day before the picnic and stored them over night. There was a refundable security deposit on the kegs, which we get back. The kegs also came with gear to tap the kegs, but we used a CO2 system owned by a graduate student to get beer from the kegs without needing to pump them. The wine was bought from Costco, and a wine bottle opener needs to be remembered to be brought to the picnic.

Because we are serving alcohol on public lands, we need to have insurance to cover us if anything goes wrong. The Alcohol Liability insurance can be bought from the Risk Services Division of Eugene’s city government. You can see their website here: http://or-eugene.civicplus.com/index.aspx?NID=1253 or the Eugene City FAQ page, here: http://www.eugene-or.gov/FAQ.aspx. If you just call the division and tell them you need alcohol liability insurance for a small event, they’ll email you the form attached in appendix.
II, which you can return to them at their offices downtown for the insurance. It’ll take a few days to process. It took exactly 10 days from when I turned the form in to when I got an email with the insurance approval paperwork.

Not much alcohol was left over. One keg was finished and the other keg had maybe 10 cups left over. Most of the wine was drank, I think.

VI. COMMITTEE PURCHASING RESPONSIBILITIES

The committee finds itself responsible for drinks and burgers/hotdogs. Below is a list of items purchased by the committee and where that purchase was made. This consists just of food, grilling supplies, and picnic supplies.

A. Food purchased by the Committee

- Burgers (Costco, 11lbs ground beef)
- Veggie Burgers (Costco, 12 or 16 burger)
- Hotdogs (Costco, 36 hotdogs)
- Veggie Hotdogs/sausages (Costco, 12 sausages)
- Cheese (Costco, big block of cheddar)
- Hotdog/Burger buns (Costco, enough for all the burgers/hotdogs)
- Condiments: Ketchup, Mustard (Safeway, 1 large ketchup, 2 small mustard)
- Soda/non-alcoholic drinks (Safeway, 4 2-liters assorted)

B. Grilling Tools

- Charcoal (Safeway, 17lb bag)
- Grill (borrowed)
- Grill Utensils (borrowed)
- Lighter Fluid (borrowed)
• Lighter (borrowed)
• Newspaper (borrowed)
• Chimney (borrowed)

C. Picnic Items provided by the committee

• Plates (Costco)
• Plasticware (Costco)
• Napkins (Costco)
• Cups (Costco)
• Ice to cool kegs (Safeway)

Note: There were a lot of plates, cups, napkins and plasticware left over. It should be stored somewhere. Probably with all of the decorations for the Holiday Party. Check there for next year.

VII. ADDITIONAL COMMITTEE PICNIC-DAY SUPPLIES

There is a lot of things that the committee needs to transport to the park. There’s some random things and some things I would have liked to bring to the park, but forgot. DO NOT FORGET THE RENTAL/INSURANCE PAPERWORK.

A. Miscellaneous Items

• Rental/Insurance Paperwork
• Sharpies/index cards to label potluck dishes
• String/Scissors to hang portraits
• Pens/pencils for games
• List of letterboxes/geocaches in Hendricks Park

• Music devices

• Post-it notes to label Portraits

• Keg Tap

• Wine Bottle Opener

• Sharp Knife/Cheese slicer

B. Items the Committee Forgot

• Veggies for Burgers: lettuce, tomato, onion (These were purchased independently from the department funding, but I think this is a thing the committee should cover)

• Apple Cider (also bought independently, although since it’s a FALL picnic, this might be a very nice alternative to soda for the committee to purchase. Two gallons were completely drank during the picnic, while only two of the four 2-liters of soda were finished)

• Cheap Table Cloths (??)

• Fireplace Key

• Things to burn in the fireplace (logs, heretics)

• Sports things: baseball (and gloves), football, soccer ball (we did have a football and everyone’s favorite grad students brought their baseball gloves and played some catch)

• Park maps for hiking trails (although I think there are lots of maps in the park)

• S’MORES!

• Ice to keep drinks cold
VIII. BUDGET

The budget for the picnic is $550. This consists of $400 from the department and $150 from "Foundation" funding, whatever that is exactly. This separate $150 appears to generally exist to cover alcohol costs, as it comes from a slightly different funding source than from the rest of the money. You’ll see that we went over budget.

C. Budget Comments

• We are over budget overall, and over budget just on alcohol. You’ll also note that the amount we are over budget on alcohol more than covers the overall over-budget-ness.

• The two deposits are not handled via purchase order. Checks for security deposit are written directly by graduate students. The deposits are not cashed (for the shelter) or are refunded (for the kegs) after the event, so the purchase order system is needed. I guess unless something goes wrong, then I don’t know how to deal with security deposits.

• The official numbers for last year on purchases that weren’t beer or park rental fees aren’t recorded anywhere, I think. I know I was told that they had gone slightly over budget last year, but not by how much.

• Compared to last year, we had to spend at least $20 more on the shelter, and spent $15 more on beer than last year, but overall we were just $17.96 over-budget. We must have saved some money on food, spent more on alcohol, and had higher general overhead (rentals). That isn’t good.

• The park reservation can be handled hourly up to six hours, after six hours, a day price is charged. An evening picnic, could probably be shorter than the 6 hours I reserved the shelter for less time, saving a little money on reservation costs.

• The ice purchased was used just to cool the kegs for the beer. No ice was purchased to use in drinks, which is a thing we should have remembered to do.

• The prizes cost just $3.00 at goodwill, so we decided to not even bother turning in a receipt to get reimbursed.

• Around $43 was spent on burgers/hotdogs and about $25 was spent on vegetarian stuff. Maybe half the vegetarian stuff was eaten, although it was likely closer to 1/3. I do know that the 12 veggie sausages were more expensive than the 36 hotdogs we had. Is such a heavy a commitment to vegetarian food worth the price? Should we buy less vegetarian stuff at somewhere other than Costco even if it is more expensive per burger/”hotdog”? Probably.
IX. RICHARD'S CONCLUSIONS

Am I happy with how the picnic went? Loosely. I really wanted to increase faculty attendance. That was my goal with being the chair of the committee. A fair number of faculty turn out for the holiday party (it is in the building) and wanton (it’s fun!) that I wanted to increase the number for the fall picnic. On that front, I daily horribly. None showed up until maybe around 6, and then only 3 faculty strolled in at different times. And none brought family. What went wrong?

There wasn’t any discussion with the faculty before-hand if a Saturday event would be well attended. I mostly decided that I wanted to try it, and since no one has oversight over this choice, I went ahead and did it. Maybe that isn’t the best decision. Talking to some faculty after picking a date, I only heard negative feedback. A few said they live far-ish out of town, so it’s less likely for them to come back into town on a Saturday (while on Fridays they are already in town). However, this opinion tended to come from faculty who have a history of not attending department events. I was also told that a Saturday didn’t really matter, it just depended on what else was going on in their lives if they could make it.

The weather was also questionable (I don’t think it rained, but it did in the morning and looked like it would any time). Having the picnic a few weeks earlier (so rent the park out sooner!) might help increase attendance on a Saturday. The idea of a jazz band seemed to intrigue some faculty, so that is definitely an idea to revisit.

I took a short walk through some trails and played some catch. I really enjoyed the ability to go do stuff in the park during the day, although very few people did. I don’t know of anyone else that walked on any trails and people that did play catch with a football never got more than 15 feet outside of the shelter. Nicer weather might really have helped. Also, having food ready sooner might help people go play in the park more, if they know food will be waiting then they return (we got a late jump on prepping food and getting to the park as a committee because that just happens).

I was happy that people seemed to like self portraits. It makes a neat puzzle and you get to learn about people. A bit more organization would help. It’d be really nice to have a list of names to match to self portraits, but unless people get me their portrait earlier in the week, that isn’t going to happen.

Overall, I’d give it a B-. I think nicer weather would have gone a long way. I enjoyed myself quite a bit, but the picnic was not about me (officially).

X. APPENDICES

A. P.O. information

Getting POs for things is pretty easy. If you talk with Patty Valenzuela she’ll set you up. We can technically get POs for the government forms (park rental and alcohol insurance), but I found it easier to get reimbursed. There’s a question about the alcohol insurance paperwork as that government department doesn’t give receipts, but hopefully that’ll all work out. You can also get a PO for Costco pretty easily. Talk with Jani about the picnic. All you need is to write COSTCO as the vendor on a blank PO and list ”Food and Drinks” in the itemization section. Jani will give you a PO number, account/index information, a maximum total you can spend at Costco, and sign it for you.

At Costco, the PO will get you in (even without a card). Take the PO to an employee who stands behind the registers. They’ll take the PO and process it while you shop. When ready to check out, tell the cashier you have a PO and they’ll dispatch someone to get the information for you. It’s pretty easy. You can even have them subtotal alcohol for you, if you ask them to and they ring up the alcohol first.

B. Park Rental Paperwork

There are two sets of important paperwork here. First, documents to turn into the parks department to rent the park and second documents confirming our rental to be in possession of the committee on the day of the picnic. Please note, that the alcohol liability insurance makes the park rental process complicated. The alcohol forms must be completely processed by the Eugene government before we can be approved to rent the park. However, the rental decision is made before the alcohol paperwork is complete. Therefore, we originally got a letter declining our park reservation, but a week or so later, we got another letter approving us after the alcohol insurance completely went through. This was expected by us, as we were warned this is exactly what would happen by a lady in the Parks department, so it is nothing to worry about.

Additional Comments: ________________________________________________________________
C. Alcohol Liability Insurance

In renting the park, we had to inform the government that we planned on serving alcohol to our guests. To do this in a public park, we needed to pay the government to cover our event with insurance. I don’t know if this insurance covers us or the government in case something horrible happens as a result of us serving alcohol, but we had to do it. Again, like above, there are both forms we submit to the government and forms which we get in return and have to carry with us at the park.
PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

This insurance program has been designed for persons or organizations renting or leasing this facility/premises to conduct short term special events that meet the following criteria:

- Total event attendance is 3,000 or less
- Maximum number of consecutive event days is 10 (not including set-up or tear down)

Coverage is provided by a carrier rated A+ (Superior) by A.M. Best Company.

INELIGIBLE OPERATIONS

The following types of event operations are not eligible for this program. Please note, this is not a complete listing of ineligible operations.

- Activist rallies, marches or literature distribution

E. Geocache/Letterboxing clues

I printed out a few of these pages (which I also put together) and had them sitting around the self-portraits. No one was interested in actually doing any of the things listed, but I’m sure someone at least read the paper. I guess that is a success?
Letterboxing

Letterboxing is a scavenger hunt set up by strangers. Each letterbox contains a book and stamps in some sort of container. The idea is to find the container, use the stamp in the container to mark your own letterboxing book, and use a personal stamp to mark the container’s book signalling that you’ve found it. It’s fun. Following are 3 different letterboxing clue sets located in Hendricks Park. All of these clues are from letterboxing.org.

SHAG ARTIST SERIES – by CymruWitch

This series is dedicated to one of my favorite contemporary artists, Shag. His work is directly inspired by both the illustrative commercial art of the 50’s an 60’s and modern lounge aesthetics. LOCATION: Hendricks Park, SE Eugene   Park in the lot near the intersection of Fairmont and Floral Hill. Look for restrooms nearby and a big gravel trails that leads S/SW from them. You’ll notice a sign that warns people to pick up their doggie doo.

BOX 1: SKULL

Continue on the big gravel path. Pass 2 trails on your right and keep your eyes peeled for a smaller third path. Take it. You’ll see a mossy knob your left, and farther down the trail a mossy log/stump to your right. The box is hidden inside the large cavity on the backside of this log/stump, covered with as much bark as we could find. Please re-hide well. Head back to the big gravel path.

BOX 2: TIKI

Onward on the big gravel path, you’ll come to a major junction with paths heading off in several directions and a big cement/stone structure. Take the path that leads in the direction opposite of the white arrow. Not very far down this path look for a big, jagged broken stump on the left hand side. Be careful, since it’s up a small embankment. The box is nestled on the backside of the giant “V” itself; you’ll need a good stick for this one. It’s been hidden under some moss...please re-cover it well. Head back to the cement junction.

BOX 3: CAT

Back at the junction, follow the arrow this time. Look for a small but well-worn trail on the right, off of the main arrow path. Soon you’ll spy a large ivy-covered tree with a smaller tree hugging it tightly. Look to the backside of these trees, at the very base where the box can be found shrouded in ivy.

BOX 4: MONKEY

Stay on this same smaller trail; don’t go back to the arrow trail just yet. When you have to make a choice, choose left. Over the log. When it’s time to choose again, keep left around another fallen log. About 7 paces from this log is another on your right-hand side, completely covered in ivy. Check out the backside of this log, under a thicket of ivy, where the box is snuggled under some bark. When done, re-trace your steps back to the arrow path and the cement junction.

BOX 5: SIGNATURE

Again at the cement junction, choose the smallest of the path choices. It’s a small path that leads off behind the big cement/stone structure. Walk this path and look for another small path on the left that leads downhill to a big “snag” with a rectangular rock in front of it. At first it just looks like a huge tree, but then you notice it has no top. There is a decomposing log between the tree and the rock. Search the back left-hand side of the log. The box is wedged in the hollowing underside of the log, covered with some ivy and leaf/bark debris.
3-T Series – by 3-T’s

We’ve had a great time letterboxing for two years now and are finally hiding our own boxes. We’re not artists but had a great time experimenting with creating stamps. We hope you enjoy finding these as much as we have enjoyed searching for others.

These are all located in Hendricks Park. The starting point for the directions is the parking lot at the corner of Fairmount and Floral Hill. To get there take Agate to 21st. Turn east on 21st. It will ”T” into Fairmount. Go right and follow it to the parking lot.

Box 2: "Bionicle Hau Mask" - Go back to the "Y" and take the left trail this time. Step over a big log and continue into the "tree tunnel." There is a multi, thin trunked branching tree that hangs over the path on the right. Look in the base of the trunks for this box.

Box 3: "Backward Lego" - Continue up this same trail. At the bigger trail go left. At the large paved trail go left again. When you reach the white arrow there will be several trails merging. Follow the trail that goes uphill and veers left. At the "Y" go left. Take the 2nd small trail on the left and look for a large, slighlty curved tree on the right of this trail. It has a large moss covered root coming towards the trail. The box is on the back left side of this tree.

Box 4: "3-T" - Go back to the larger trail and continue uphill 26 steps to a large tree on your left with a broken, spiked trunk on the right of this tree. Look inside the trunk. Please re-hide the boxes better than you found them so the next person can enjoy the hunt as well. Have fun and enjoy the park trails.

Sitting Bull – by Slick Kitty

To find this Man of Bravery, make your way up Fairmount, as it goes into Hendrick’s Park in Eugene. You want the upper most street of Fairmount, passing Longview on the left, with the hill on your right, going into the park area. After you pass Longview, on the right you will see paved trail entrance with four wood stumps and a yellow metal upside V. Does not say you can not park here.

Anyways, take a stroll up the trail . . . on your left you will come to a tree with two twisted low eyes and just past that is a fallen mossy log. Facing the log, on bottom left, is Sitting Bull, silently.

Geocaches

Geocaching is another scavenger hunt activity where the only clues given are GPS coordinates. Look around each coordinate for some sort of container.
