Faculty Mentor CONFIRMATION

Faculty Mentor CONFIRMATION
All Global Studies Undergraduate Majors are required to find a Faculty Mentor before completing their application.

Faculty Mentor Confirmation - Upon choosing, meeting with, and confirming your chosen mentor, your Faculty Mentor must confirm your partnership by completing and electronically signing the Faculty Mentor Agreement Form and sending the completed form to ociasundergrad@uoregon.edu with you as their mentee on copy, indicating their confirmed status as your Faculty Mentor. Emails confirming Faculty Mentor status for mentees must come directly from the Faculty Mentor to the ociasundergrad@uoregon.edu email account.

The role of the Faculty Mentor is to mentor, inform and guide the student in a professional and/or geographic interest area; however, the Faculty Mentor is not to advise on GLBL academic requirements (the Global Connections Advisors will help with this task). The student should select a mentor who shares some similar interests. Although we strongly suggest you choose an GLBL Department Faculty Member, your Faculty Mentor may be chosen from any UO University department so long as they are a permanent academic faculty member (e.g. not graduate students or visiting faculty members).

Your Faculty Mentor is someone who will mentor you through the program in your academic and professional interests. Keep in mind that your faculty mentor is someone you will probably want to ask for letters of recommendation and references in the future. If you choose to write an honors thesis, you may also choose to ask this faculty member to supervise your thesis (an Honors Thesis Advisor Form must also be signed and on file).

Global Studies Application Essays

How did you become interested in international/global issues? How would you describe the quality of that interest? This can be an autobiographical statement if you wish. (max 2500 characters)

What are your current thoughts about a future vocation or profession? This can be called a "career goals" statement. We do not wish to force you into a premature declaration, but want to know about your work interests and how these are related to your academic program. (max 2500 characters)
How will you fulfill the requirements of the major? Give a description of the “integrating principle” or element that ties your program together. Please address the following:

- What is your specific geographic area of study and how will you fulfill the third-year language requirement? (Your foreign language must be directly related to this area.)
- What is your professional concentration and who is your preferred faculty advisor?
- How do your choices for geographic and professional foci combine to meet your academic goals in Global Studies?

(max 2500 characters)
