2018 Conference in Portland, Oregon, USA (<https://blogs.uoregon.edu/puarl2018/>)

Friday October 26 – Sunday, October 28, 2018

University of Oregon Portland - <https://refugee.uoregon.edu/>

After the successful completion of the PUARL Regenerative City 2016 International Conference in San Francisco (<https://blogs.uoregon.edu/puarl2016/>) and the latest associated PURPLSOC World Conference in Austria, Europe in the Fall of 2017 (<http://www.purplsoc.org/conference2017/>) we are in the process of preparing the 'Ten Year Anniversary PUARL Conference' for Fall 2018 in Portland Oregon.

Students: Part of this tradition is student involvement in the conference and a PUARL seminar that provides involvement. Students can participate in the conference and conduct and write a report on important sessions, paper presentation, or conduct an interview with one of the speakers based on a set of questions. The course is intended for 1 credit, which means 10 hours contact time and a total of 30 hours activity for UG and 40 for grads. (<https://blogs.uoregon.edu/puarl2018/>)

Students can also work with Professor Neis on the Refugee Pattern Language Project that is currently a main research project at PUARL: <https://refugee.uoregon.edu/>
First meeting: Thursday, October 4, 1pm in Portland.
