LA 260
Understanding Landscapes

Time
T/H 10:00 am - 11:50 am
Office Hours
Wednesday 9:00 - 11:00 am

Location
Lawrence Hall 115

Instructor
Michael Geffel
Dept. of Landscape Architecture
Lawrence Hall, Room 214
mgeffel@uoregon.edu

Credits
4

GE

Iryna Volynets
ivolynet@uoregon.edu

Course Description
The goal of this course is to expand your understanding, perception and interpretation of landscape as a design medium. This is a project-based course, centered on making works that seek to break the surface of the visual landscape and understand the actors that create these environments. Invisible processes, histories, culture, people, animals, politics, and events help shape our physical experience of a place - understanding these unseen characteristics allows us to gain a deeper understanding of sites. Readings and lectures will draw from landscape architecture, geography, art theory, and psychology to inform our work and practice. We will explore “ordinary” landscapes as well as designed ones: from the yard to the street, the garden to the farm, the park to the city.

LA 260 is a required course for the Bachelor of Landscape Architecture degree, and serves as an Arts and Letters Core Education elective.

Eligibility
This seminar is open to all undergraduate students.

Southern Willamette Valley
Google Earth Aerial Image