The Inhabitants of Mars.

In his recent expressions as to the habitability of the planet Mars, Prof. Hough of Northwestern university has expressed the view that it is essentially impossible that the earth is the only planet supporting sentient life. What manner of animal the Martians may be—if he is man—will be uncertain, apparently, to afford an endless subject of various speculations. The reason for this is that, there, it is known, differ oddly in some respects from those of earth. During its night of twelve hours, for instance, the Marsian sees his little moons, Phobos and Deimos, between ten, and fifteen miles in diameter, in all phases from new moon to full. Owing to the smallness of the planet gravitation has only a fraction of the force which it has on the earth, so that a human being on Mars could leap long distances provided the air were not too thick for such breathing. As yet it is not believed that any method of communicating with any beings dwelling on Mars has been found, but speculation as to the possibility of such creatures and as to their form, size, habits and possible intelligence must continue to be one of the absorbing puzzles of science.

President James Declines to Discuss the Excluding of the Two Colored Cods from the Women's Halls at University—May Have to Pass on the Case Later—Action Taken Because of the Protest of White Students Last Term.

When the two colored girls were refused permission to room at either of two women's dormitories in Evanston a year ago, the Northwestern university was not consulted. There is a possibility that they rejected applicants may expect the consideration of the faculty. In making that ruling, was first to draw the line were the Clapin and Pearson halls. The color line was never drawn at the other halls. The ruling was made by the Woman's Educational association, which has supervision over the halls in which the students live. By the ruling, unless it is reversed, no colored girls will be admitted to the halls this year in Chicago.

The board of trustees of Northwestern university has not drawn the color line. The University is not responsible for the action of the Women's Educational Association in the case of the colored girl, Miss Isabella Ellis.
The arrangements today were agreed on by F. C. Donald, Thomas D. Knight, E. P. Rosenthal, President W. R. Harper, Frank L. Doewen, Charles H. Reznor, Max Lipton, James O. Patterson, Henry C. Linton, Oscar L. Triggs, and James Howard Kehler. The trip around the city will be made in automobiles. F. C. Donald, president of the Chicago Automobile Club, has offered the committee a car, each manned with an experienced chauffeur. The offer was accepted.

Chances are that a conflict of interest will arise, as women's dormitories. Last year when Miss Isabella Ellis of San Antonio, Texas, was told every-thing was ready, she was told that, owing to overcrowding, the girls had been placed two in a room and she would have to look elsewhere.

Mr. Henrotin said that the banquet would be an unusual one and not at all inferior to the peace jubilee banquet, which has been a success. Tickets, which are now going for $10 each, will be accompanied by two balcony admission tickets.

A few weeks ago Miss Ellis applied for her old room again, but she found that all the rooms had been previously engaged. She also learned that a double room, such as she occupied, could not be reserved for a single occupant. Unless she is permitted to室in a single room, she will be compelled to discontinue her course at the university.

Among the invitations that have been made to President Roosevelt on his visit to Chicago, the following programme will be carried out:

9 a.m.—Hamilton Club reception.
9:30 a.m.—Reception at Club.
10 a.m.—Receipt at Coliseum.
11 a.m.—Mass meeting at Coliseum.
2 p.m.—Meets University of Chicago.
2:30 p.m.—Departs Chicago.
3 p.m.—Takes in charge of the hotel by the committee and probable visit to Hull House.

President Harper refused to consent to an alteration in the programme giving the luncheon to President Roosevelt. The President decided to have the meeting at the University club, chairman of the banquet committee, President Donald is chairman of the committee of the University club, James C. Patterson, Henry C. Lipton, Max Lipton, William R. Harper, Oscar L. Triggs and James Howard Kehler.

President Harper will not consent to the banquet being moved from the Hotel. When September banquet at Auditorium.

Edward Wilmot Bates and Frank K. Edelweiss, Secretaries of the Republican Clubs, will hold a banquet in charge by the Association of Women's Clubs and probable visit to Hull House.
Coach Hollister opens the Northwestern football season on Sheppan Field this afternoon with a larger initial squad of candidates than usual. In addition Hollister has heard of many other men who may enter the Methodist school and join the squad if he needs the number of "good" men for his team. He will have a larger number of freshmen to choose from this season, new men, all of whom proved worth in the game at high schools or other colleges. In addition Hollister has heard of many other men who may enter the Methodist school and join the squad if he needs the number of "good" men for his team. He will have a larger number of freshmen to choose from this season, new men, all of whom proved worth in the game at high schools or other colleges.

Autumn Rebellion—White Students Want Co-eds in Strafe

MANAGERS IN STRIFE

Exclusion from Dormitories Stirs Altercations.

Rebellion by White Students Sold to Harvard for $500, Citing Overcrowding Given as Reason.

Co-eds at Northwestern university have collected a $500 bond for the exclusion of a colored girl student, and the authorities have rejected the application of two young women who sought rooms in the university halls. Miss Isabel Ellis of San Antonio, Texas, has been permitted to move into Chapin hall, but the other colored girl student, who asked for admission at Willard hall, was refused.

The color question has never come up among the young men students at the university, for in the students' dormitory at Northwestern, there are also two colored candidates this year in the varsity football team, and the color line has never been a problem. The color line has been drawn at Northwestern and many stormy meetings, and the faction in the administration, and harmony has been restored after several heated discussions.

Rebellion, Then Ultimatum.

Miss Ellis, who is said to be a good-looking and popular girl, has been refused her request. She has refused to accept any other rooms in the university dormitory. She has refused to accept any other rooms in the university dormitory.

The color question has never come up among the young men students at the university, for in the students' dormitory at Northwestern, there are also two colored candidates this year in the varsity football team, and the color line has never been a problem.

The color question has never come up among the young men students at the university, for in the students' dormitory at Northwestern, there are also two colored candidates this year in the varsity football team, and the color line has never been a problem. The color line has been drawn at Northwestern and many stormy meetings, and the faction in the administration, and harmony has been restored after several heated discussions.

The color question was said to have stirred up the women's educational board, which has general supervision of the several halls in which the young women live, has passed upon the matter after many stormy meetings, and the color line has been drawn at Northwestern. The color line has been drawn at Northwestern and many stormy meetings, and the faction in the administration, and harmony has been restored after several heated discussions.

The color line has been drawn at Northwestern and many stormy meetings, and the faction in the administration, and harmony has been restored after several heated discussions.

The color line has been drawn at Northwestern and many stormy meetings, and the faction in the administration, and harmony has been restored after several heated discussions.

REBELLION

The color question was said to have stirred up the women's educational board, which has general supervision of the several halls in which the young women live, has passed upon the matter after many stormy meetings, and the color line has been drawn at Northwestern. The color line has been drawn at Northwestern and many stormy meetings, and the faction in the administration, and harmony has been restored after several heated discussions.

The color line has been drawn at Northwestern and many stormy meetings, and the faction in the administration, and harmony has been restored after several heated discussions.

The color line has been drawn at Northwestern and many stormy meetings, and the faction in the administration, and harmony has been restored after several heated discussions.

The color line has been drawn at Northwestern and many stormy meetings, and the faction in the administration, and harmony has been restored after several heated discussions.
CHARLES WARD.

As Northwestern University prepares to return to football, it is of interest to note the how it will be played. The Northwestern coaching staff will be headed by Coach Thaddeus E. Edsall. The team will consist of the best players from the junior and senior classes, and a few from the junior college. The captain will be Andrew Cooke, and the assistant captains will be A. G. Monahan and W. H. Timmerman. The team will practice daily at 3:30 p.m., beginning Sept. 5.

STUDENTS IN PROHIBITION WAR.

Northwestern's prohibitionists are not getting the best of this season's battles, as the fact is shown by the defeat of the team in the battle of Evanston. The students of Northwestern are not content with the results of the last battle, and are determined to try again. The next battle will be fought at Evanston, and the team will be composed of the best men in the class. The captain will be John Hough, and the assistant captains will be Charles Davidson and Robert Elliott. The team will practice daily at 3:30 p.m., beginning Sept. 5.

MENTAL SUPERIORITY OF MARS.

Professor Hough's determination, from a summer's observation at Northwestern University, that the people of Mars can be of a superior mental type, has been accepted without a murmur. The students of Evanston, however, are not satisfied. More than likely Chicago will resent, passionately and vociferously, the indifference shown towards the mental type. Naturally Boston will display a characteristic disposition to exact testimony of the sensations of discovery, failure to produce which will create a skeptical coolness by Cambridgers...