

Understanding Research Development Metrics

Funding Opportunity Announcements Disseminated

Number of federal funding opportunity announcements reviewed internally by Research Development for eligibility criteria, and disseminated to the research community at Northwestern.

Faculty Consultations

Number of one-on-one consultations held with faculty on a variety of topics related to research development.

Limited Submission Authorizations

Number of limited submission applications authorized by Research Development. Limited submission funding opportunities allow a restricted number of applicants per institution. Research Development coordinates the internal selection process and authorizes the selected institutional nominee to proceed with their application.

Research Development Hosted Events

Number of events planned and coordinated by Research Development each fiscal year. Events include interdisciplinary workshops, federal agency visits, symposia, informational presentations related to research funding, and more.

Proposals Supported

Number of proposals supported by Research Development each fiscal year through programmatic and project management support, strengthening proposal content, coordination of the pre-submission review process, support for site visits, and more.

Number of people viewing ORD Insight (average per week)

Number of individuals, on average, viewing Research Development's weekly federal funding newsletter. This newsletter provides curated lists of federal funding opportunity announcements (FOAs) released within the previous week. FOAs are screened for eligibility and relevance to Northwestern research expertise and strategic goals. Information about upcoming agency events or new programs are also included.
