FACE COVERING GUIDELINES

Wear a face covering in common areas.
Common areas include hallways, offices, and bathrooms.

Maintain a distance of at least six feet from other people.

Do not wear a face covering in the lab.
Hazardous materials in the lab can contaminate the face covering.

Continue to maintain a distance of at least six feet from other people.

Contact Research Safety if you have questions.

Face coverings are NOT a substitute for social distancing. Always remember to keep at least a six-foot distance from others and wash your hands often.

Phased Return to Campus
northwestern.edu/campus-return