Libidinal Investments
Emerging Scholarship on Sexualities and the Social March 29-30, 2012
Northwestern University, Evanston

Thursday, March 29

Keynote Address, 5:30 p.m (followed by reception), John Evans Alumni Center
Co-sponsored by Global Health Studies and the Department of Anthropology

“Sexual Matters, the Politics of HIV and AIDS, and the Invention of Global Health”
Richard G. Parker, Sociomedical Sciences and Anthropology, Columbia University

Friday, March 30

9:00 am - 5:30 pm (followed by reception), Hagstrum Room, University Hall 201

Categories and Boundaries: The Making of Subjectivities
Ben Singer, University of Pennsylvania
Tey Meadow, Princeton University
Kirsten Leng, Northwestern University

New Intimacies, Global Economies, and the Nation-State
Evren Savci, Northwestern University
Kimberly Hoang, Rice University
John Song-Pae Cho, University of California, Berkeley

Regulation, Subversion, and the Transformation of Space
Andrew Ross, Kenyon College
Danielle Hidalgo, University of San Francisco
Julio César Capó, Jr., Yale University

Q&A on Sexuality Studies Publishing
Doug Mitchell, Executive Editor, University of Chicago Press

Comments by Northwestern graduate students Tera Agyepong, Savina Balasubramanian, Clare Forstie, Theo Greene, Elias Krell, Greg Mitchell, Melissa Minor Peters, Anna Terwiel, and Christine Wood.

http://www.sexualities.northwestern.edu
To RSVP, please email sexualities@northwestern.edu