

PSYCHOLOGY & THE OTHER

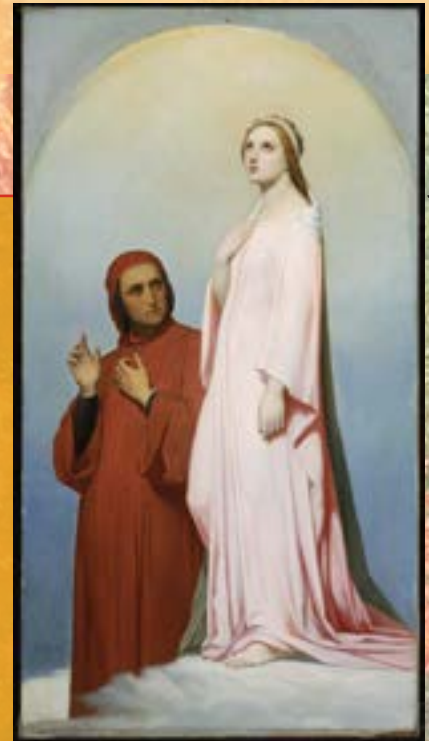

October 4th-6th, 2019

Boston College | 300 Hammond Pond Pkwy | Chestnut Hill, MA 02467

Dante Salon

The organizers of the Psychology and the Other Conference are excited to announce a special track for the 2019 conference. In addition to our regular call for papers, panels, and posters, we are preparing a 'Dante Salon.' We currently have three invited addresses from eminent Dante scholars Peter S. Hawkins, William Franke, and John Took. Our call is for individual papers, symposia, and posters that connect Dante and his inspirations to the 20th and 21st century philosophical perspectives of the Psychology and the Other conference. In addition to direct connections between the Florentine and the conference's many perspectives, we are also interested in links between Roman Catholic scholars, such as Saints Augustine and Thomas, as well as other important currents informing Dante's work, such as Averroes, Saint Francis, or the Troubadour tradition.

Please click here or go to psychologyandtheother.com for details on how to submit. The deadline for submissions is February 8th, 2019.

Ay Scheffer (1795-1858) Dante and Beatrice (1851) Museum of Fine Arts, Boston

Invited Speakers

William Franke
Professor of Comparative Literature
Vanderbilt University

John Took
Professor, emeritus
Dante Studies
University College London

Peter S. Hawkins
Professor of Religion and Literature
Yale Divinity School and
Yale Institute of Sacred Music