CALL FOR PAPERS
18th Conference of the International Society for Theoretical Psychology,
19-23 August 2019, Copenhagen, DPU, Denmark.

Measured Lives: Theoretical Psychology in an Era of Acceleration

This venue encourages scholars to engage in cutting-edge theoretical debates and exchange ideas on some of the main challenges and opportunities in contemporary psychology and society. With this theme on measured lives and acceleration, we wish to stimulate debate and reflection regarding values and forms of governance emerging from the ethos of acceleration and efficiency. Not only may this ethos play a role in inducing human suffering and in structuring that suffering as ‘new pathologies’ – it also seems obvious that manualization and standardization practices conflict with the complexity of human becoming, community and subjectivity in everyday life. We invite submissions relevant to the conference theme, but also welcome proposals on other topics in the field of theoretical psychology.

Keynote Speakers Include:
Hartmut Rosa (Friedrich-Schiller-Universität Jena)
Ann Phoenix (University College London)
Pablo Oyarzún (Universidad de Chile)

Submission formats
Paper presentation, symposia, panel discussion and posters

For detailed information on submission of abstracts and formats, see: http://conferences.au.dk/istp2019/

For queries and questions, contact: istp2019.arts.edu@au.dk

Important deadlines
Call for papers, symposia and posters: Nov. 30th 2018 and Feb. 1st 2019
Call for proposed panel discussions: Dec. 14th 2018

ISTP members attend the conference at a reduced rate. For information on becoming a member, follow this link: https://istp.wildapricot.org/