

John R. Formica '81
Partner
PricewaterhouseCoopers

John is leading the New York Metro mid-cap practice and is a partner in the Firm's Industrial Products group. Prior to that, John was in PwC's National Office where he assisted clients on changes in the regulatory environment and provided guidance to clients on restructuring and financing transactions including advice on carve out financial statements, initial public equity offerings, and debt offerings as well as periodic filings. John also had responsibility for assisting many China foreign issuers with their capital raising transactions as well as their periodic filings. In addition, John was the lead partner responsible for the development and communication of PwC's thought leadership activities on business combinations and consolidated financial statements. John was one of the Firm's technical experts on business combinations and loss contingencies; a noted speaker and author on these subjects, including consultation on technical matters with clients, presentations to clients and trade conferences, media interviews, webcasts and training programs. John was the partner project leader for PwC's book, Global Guide to Accounting for Business Combinations and Noncontrolling Interests.

John serves as the lead recruiting partner to Providence College for PricewaterhouseCoopers. John is a graduate of Providence College, with a BS in Accounting. He is a Certified Public Accountant and is licensed to practice in ten states. John is a member of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants, and the Connecticut Society of Certified Public Accountants. He is on the Board of Directors of The Connecticut Forum, serving as its Treasurer, and the National Multiple Sclerosis Society - Connecticut Chapter. John lives with his wife Wendy and their family in Madison, NJ.