

Providence College Business Analytics Graduate Certificate Program

PROVIDENCE COLLEGE
MBA Program

WHY ENROLL?

PC's new Business Analytics Graduate Certificate Program was developed in conjunction with leading employers (CVS, Johnson & Johnson, PwC, and others) to provide employees an opportunity to develop strategic critical-thinking and decision making competencies using data. This is a 3-course, 9-credit-hour business analytics certificate taught by PC faculty recognized as experts in their fields. The Business Analytics Graduate Certificate Program provides a rapid foundational education in decision making and quantitative analysis, with a focus on building confidence to use data to make strategic decisions. This competency has been identified as an integral business skill all employees will need to lead change and make better business decisions.

WHO SHOULD ENROLL?

Course 1: MBA 690 Operations and Service Management

Many managerial decisions -- regardless of their functional orientation -- are increasingly based on analysis using quantitative models from the discipline of management science. Management science tools, techniques, and concepts (e.g., data, models, and software systems) have dramatically changed the way businesses operate in manufacturing, service operations, marketing, and finance. This course is designed to enhance students' decision making analysis and introduce them to the various management science modeling techniques.

Dates: Mondays, 8/26-12/9*; 7 to 9:30 p.m.

*Tuesday 10/15 due to a Monday schedule being followed

Instructor: Dr. David Cortés, Assistant Professor of Finance, Providence College

Course 2: MBA 648 Special Topics in Finance - Business Analytics I

Business analytics provides techniques for collecting and examining data, as well as the methods for turning that data into actionable knowledge. The course will explore analytical techniques to: describe what has happened (descriptive analytics), use the past to predict the future (predictive analytics), and identify what is the best action to take (prescriptive analytics). The course also examines data visualizations and querying database sources.

Dates: 12/13: 7:30 to 9 p.m., 1/12: 1 to 6 p.m., 1/18: 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., 1/25: 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Instructor: Dr. Adam Villa, Associate Professor of Computer Science, Providence College

Course 3: MBA 648 Special Topics in Finance - Business Analytics II

The abundance of available data that firms are able to access has dramatically changed the way businesses operate in manufacturing, service operations, marketing, and finance. This course provides an opportunity for students to integrate and apply the analytical skills and knowledge learned in previous courses to a real-world business analytics project.

Dates: Wednesdays, 1/13- 4/6; 7 to 9:30 p.m.

Instructor: Dr. Jonathan Jackson, Assistant Professor of Finance, Providence College
