

Home Learning menu week beginning 12 February. You should do 10 items from the menu altogether, five the first week and five the second week. Show the menu to your teacher every Sunday morning. Highlight the boxes that you complete. Highlight the first week's activities in one color, and the second week's activities in another color.

Go on www.reflexmath.org and practice your math skills	Go on www.raz-kids.com and read some fiction texts, do the comprehension quizzes	WAKE UP EARLY! We are the UAS Scorpions, and you can find the Scorpius constellation between Jupiter and Mars around 6:00am each morning!	Visit your teacher's Google Classroom page for links to the various kid-friendly news websites. Find a news story you like and write your own version of it on your blog.
Go on www.prodigygame.com/play and practice your math skills	Write a blog entry that is about Ms. Noor's presentation about how what you wear is your billboard.	Did you like that Sky and Telescope link above? Add the Planetarium extension to Google Chrome.	Create a piece of art that reflects a social issue that is important to you. Bring it in a and share with the class.
Listen to different pieces of classical music - write a story, draw a picture or create another piece of art to accompany the music.	Cook, bake, assemble, or make a funny healthy snack like these here. Take a photo of what you made. Even better: let your teacher try it!	Change the date on the Planetarium extension to your birthday and examine the stars.	Start a competition that is open to fifth graders to see who can earn the highest words per minute and accuracy score in typing.
Find any grammatical or spelling mistakes on this paper. List them, and show your teacher how to correct them.	Practice your typing skills here	Make a crossword from your spelling words and bring it to school for a classmate to solve.	Explore the MET (Metropolitan Museum of Art) virtually from home: https://www.metmuseum.org/art/online-features/metkids/
Write five division word problems, you can make it into an illustrated book, or post on your blog for others to solve.	Use this writing prompt tool to create an interesting piece of writing: http://www.scholastic.com/teachers/story-starters/writing-prompts/	Hand-write each of your spelling words in humorous sentences. Use your best cursive handwriting.	Investigate famous works of modern art. Which one (or ones) do you like the most? Tell why in a blog entry.

February Spelling Words: museum, consider, illustrated, presenting, divisor, dividend, remainder, quotient, journalist, caption BONUS: Mummenschanz