

Citizenship in Flux:
Migration and Exclusion in World History, 1750-2018

Friday, April 12, 2019
Humanities 2, Room 259
University of California, Santa Cruz

Graduate Student Conference hosted by:
The UCSC Center for World History

Program Committee: Daniel Joesten, Muiris MacGiollabhui, Jackie Schultz, Crystal Smith

8:30–9:00 Opening Remarks, Coffee, and Pastries

9:00-10:30

Panel One: “Religion, Migration, and the Politics of Citizenship”

Chair: Crystal E. Smith

Jeffrey Turner

University of Utah

“Polygamy, Race, and Religion in the 1891 Immigration Act”

Robin Keller

University of California, Santa Cruz

“The Only Foreigners We Felt Sorry For:’ Holocaust Refugees and Border Control in World War II Shanghai”

Shimul Chowdhury

University of California, Santa Cruz

“Stitching Solidarity: Collaborative Craft and the Muslim Identity”

10:45-12:15

Panel Two: “Identity, Family, and the State”

Chair: Jaclyn N. Schultz

Selena Moon

Independent Scholar

“Sexism and Racism in U.S. and Japanese Citizenship Laws”

Emma Bellino

University of Wollongong

“From Citizen to Alien to Citizen Again: Married Women's Dependent Nationality in Australia, 1920-1948”

Karina Ruiz
University of California, Santa Cruz
“Cleavages of the State: Legal geographies in the U.S.”

12:15-1:15 Lunch

1:15- 2:45
Panel Three: “Exile and Banishment across Borders”
Chair: Muiris MacGiollabhuí

Daisy Munoz
San Francisco State University
“Viva Reagan: Cuban Republican Partisanship in 1980 & 1984”

Kevan Aguilar
University of California, San Diego
“‘Cárdenas was Calling Us:’ Race, Class, and Settlement in Mexican & Spanish Exile Imaginaries”

Lily Hindy
University of California, Los Angeles
“Reconsidering Home: Syrian Refugees, Emigrés, and Exiles Confront a New National Identity”

3:00-4:15
Panel Four: “Culture, Ethnicity, and Nationalism”
Chair: Daniel Joesten

Hardeep Dhillon
Harvard University
“‘Popularly Understood’: U.S. Naturalization in the Early Twentieth Century”

Amelia Flood
St. Louis University
“Marooned on American Shores: Migrating Between Citizen and Subject in the U.S. Virgin Islands.”

Alberto Ganis
University of California, Santa Cruz
“Sub-State Nationalisms and the Other(s): The Mediated Identities of Friuli”

Keynote 4:30-6
Harry Nii Koney Odamtten
Santa Clara University
Associate Professor of Africa and Atlantic History
“Edward W. Blyden: The Afropolitan Dreams of an Atlantic Denizen”

We would like to thank our sponsors:
Center for Jewish Studies, Cowell College, UCSC History Department,
and our generous donors from UCSC Giving Day!