Unhoused Women in Los Angeles

"The prevalence of violence is the biggest difference between men's and women's experiences of homelessness in Los Angeles. For many women, violence is not a single instance but an ongoing reality that is further exacerbated by the experience of homelessness itself. Of the women surveyed,... more than 60% had experienced violence at some point in the last 12 months, and 25.7% reported the violence as occurring constantly or often."

44% had been a victim of crime in the last 12 months

27% had experienced sexual assault in the last 12 months

53% had experienced interpersonal violence in their lifetime

Homelessness + Housing

Average apartment rent was $2,230 per month, up from $2,180 in 2018. Los Angeles County registered the highest county-level average rent in Southern California in 2019, continuing a trend going back at least to the start of the decade. The average rent increased 2.3% year over year. The rents are projected to further increase into 2021, with 52.7% of the population already suffering rent burden.

The rent market cannot continue to increase, with housing as the number one needed resource among the unhoused population. There needs to be a cost-effective way for the unhoused to get a safe and peaceful night’s rest.
