How does the Office of GME approach work with programs?

- Provide highest-quality customer service
- Build strong relationships (in community and broader)
- Give and take
- Promote partnership and collaboration
- Promote networking among program administrators
- Advocate on behalf of GME community
- Teach don’t just share information
- Trainees come first
- Program administrator professional development is our responsibility
Background and Intent: Each program requires a lead administrative person, frequently referred to as a program coordinator, administrator, or as titled by the institution. This person will frequently manage the day-to-day operations of the program and serve as an important liaison with learners, faculty and other staff members, and the ACGME. Individuals serving in this role are recognized as program coordinators by the ACGME.

The program coordinator is a member of the leadership team and is critical to the success of the program. As such, the program coordinator must possess skills in leadership and personnel management. Program coordinators are expected to develop unique knowledge of the ACGME and Program Requirements, policies, and procedures. Program coordinators assist the program director in accreditation efforts, educational programming, and support of residents.

Programs, in partnership with their Sponsoring Institutions, should encourage the professional development of their program coordinators and avail them of opportunities for both professional and personal growth. Programs with fewer residents may not require a full-time coordinator; one coordinator may support more than one program.
OGME Advocacy on Behalf of Program Administrators

- Always consider workload
- Is the request reasonable?
- Is it efficient?
