

Strip

To remove all contents or possessions from

To empty completely

A sequence of images telling a story

A main road in or leading out of a town

A long narrow shape (especially of a woman)

To tear the thread or teeth from

To dispossess, leave bare, remove all coverings

To press the eggs from (a splayed fish)

To gut

To remove bark and branches from (an olive tree)

To remove the midrib from (its leaves)

To milk (a cow) to the last drop

To barefoot the child always drawn from behind

To deprive someone of

To take away from, confiscate

To rob, ravage, ransack, raid, reave, rifle

To fire a bullet from a rifled gun

To rip the sheets from a bed

To lay bare, devastate, sack

To tease

Example: prisoners, down to their underwear

To denude; delude

To divest

To remove the fittings of or take apart (a machine) to inspect it, to adjust it

Example: a tank piece by piece

To dismantle, disassemble, demolish, deny

To take to pieces, take to bits, take apart, break up

To recall Al-Dawayima, Deir Yassin, Hula, Tarshiha, Jish

To clear, clean out, loot, pillage, plunder

To, often polemically, insist on nuance

To paint Gernika upon a camp entrance

To make the body believe lies about itself

To hear over a megaphone in one's native tongue today is judgment day

To sell off for profit

To use for or involve in performance

To hundred dollar bill

To entertain

To scatter like the people of Sheba

To desire no sense of permanence

To undress

Suddenly and into the dead dead sea