

Math Club Talk: Teaching Mathematics

By Prof. Lisa Berger

03/27/19

We will talk about the recommendations of the Mathematical Association of America for instructional practices in college mathematics. This would be of interest to those who consider teaching mathematics at any level. I will also briefly talk about the secondary teacher preparation program at Stony Brook, and I am happy to try to answer any questions about mathematics teaching and different career paths.